About:

Jack Snow was found with his head stuck in a hole in a garage wall. That tells you a lot about him right there! His brother, John, was found nearby probably either laughing his head off or saying, "Man, I told you that was a bad idea!" Both have been raised around other cats and are very sweet, affectionate, in-your-face kitties. We would love for them to go together. For more information please call or text their foster mom, Erin, at (513) 351-5711. You can go to www.dreamhouserescue.org to fill out a cat adoption application.
